Description

The "Monumental Cemetery", also known as the "Old Monumental Cemetery of Pisa", is the last of the monuments to rise in Piazza del Miracoli and its long external marble wall, composed of 43 blind arches and two doors, delimits the north side of the square.

Founded in 1277 by Giovanni di Simone, the structure was intended to house the sarcophagi of the Roman era, which until then had been dispersed around the Cathedral and reused as illustrious Pisan burials
